

...may 21, 1986...

paint the canvas black and thick and deep
as if icing cake
in melted liquorice –

then shrink yourself
into a molecule
and dive into
the viscous density –

then – as you shrink
feel the black expand
into the rainbows
of ten thousand suns.

©pamela swanson
www.poetpam.com