sometimes it's time to say goodbye
gathering each precious now into instants shared and not that weave our lives of circumstance –

sometimes it's time to say goodbye
knowing that each catching breath of all the loving – touching – being – will someday return to earth –

sometimes it's time to say goodbye –
to hold – to cherish and to love until we each become another vision of our inner selves –

sometimes it's time to say goodbye
goodbye – goodbye my dearest friend i know – somehow – by leaving you that we are sure to meet again.
