

A dimly lit restaurant or bar with wine glasses and candles on a table. The scene is captured in a low-key, artistic style with warm, golden light from the candles and a dark, moody background. The focus is on the foreground elements: two wine glasses filled with a golden liquid, likely wine, and two small glass holders with lit candles. The background shows a blurred bar area with a person and other patrons, creating a sense of a quiet, intimate evening.

...august 20, 2017...

sipping magic into veins from cool to warm to in-between - a glass of wine - then two until i'm someone that i've never been - i sip the wine and let the sun melt into my skin and breath - feeling the stars and sun and moon explode out of my inwardness - reaching out to galaxies - like friends that know me inside out - linking my inner heart into a universe of wonderment.

©pamela swanson
www.poetpam.com