the blue of skies is not the same our childhoods once saw inside these shrunken vistas we call life's realities –

remember astral travelling fairy tale realms when we understood that thoughts pulled worlds into being?

before being brainwashed into television schools telling us that we were warts upon a dying world?

when will we believe again in those enchanted realms knowing they have the power to grow through hearts of once upon?
