

...november 25, 2020...

a year ago you moved away
you needed space – you needed air – you wanted to expand you said but now you're moving back again –

a year ago you moved away
you said the sun was warmer there – the town was small – a perfect fit yet now you're moving back again –

you wanted to search different shores for something that was never there – thinking that your place was more than anything you'd left behind –

you miss your friends – you miss the trees you miss the walks that kept you young – but mostly you say you missed me – so now you're moving back again.
