i am a puppet-maker play-acting that i'm pawn jolting strings until i know i need to take control – i pull and twist the different strings pretending i am blind – but no one else can jerk my strings when all the strings are mine – i play that i'm a victim forgetting it's a choice i made somewhere in childhood before i found my voice – now i breathe new strategies and recompose my strings slowly becoming architect of my realities.
