

A sunset over a body of water with a water tower in the background. The sky is a mix of orange and pink, and the water is shimmering with golden light. The water tower is a large, cylindrical structure on a tall, thin stand. The sun is a bright, glowing orb on the horizon, partially obscured by the water tower. The overall scene is peaceful and serene.

...march 31, 2020...

i am forever amber
glinting sunlit waves
and washing shores like honey rippling the sands –

droplets spray from boulders into rainbow fogs
diving into eddies like the tears of ancient gods –

i collect loose pebbles like talismans of sun
to carry summer with me with dreams of amber dawn.
