

...march 27, 2020...

this is pan(dem)ic time –
a media (pan)demon(ium)
always in our ears
promoting fears –

a flu that mostly kills the elderly –
but hasn't killed as many
as a flu ten years ago –

already governments
re-stage wikipedia
and spike the online news
with contradicting tales –

on the other hand –
streets and parks are cleaner
the auto haze is gone
and consumerism down –

people are slowing down
to appreciate
those giant things in life
like health and home –

out of pan(dem)ic perhaps we'll somewhere find
a kinder sharing world
waiting to be born.
