

...july 13, 2020...

to be in awe – this is a truth i lost somewhere when i was young – to be in awe of every cell that magnifies that all-i-am –

no one ever told me that my world grew out of fingertips till each and everything i see is somewhere grown through my mind –

but now i look around to feel magnificence in earth and trees where all the lessons that i am are truths reflected back to me.
