are we standing under?
do we understand?
weaving between soltices
we waken once again –

the world is a mirror
we've yet to comprehend unearthing secret passages that open at our whim –

we're aspects of the all-is-one with each of us a child learning to integrate the web
that gathers us in love.
