

...september 20, 2022...

i gather in the fast and slow that magnifies me in the now breathing to a floating breeze reflecting me in everything –

music sings my inside ears – a sunshine tune that dances rays through towering streets of glass and grey to catch me in this small café –

from banks and shops to grass and trees i focus on a crimson rose highlighting the majesty of the now embracing me.
