

...september 14, 2022...

i sit beneath a douglas fir with pine cones dropping by my side – the fragrant green – the breeze at cool all my world turned outside in – dreaming in this golden now of friends of here and almost near till birds and bees and flowers and trees draw the inside out again.

©pamela swanson
www.poetpam.com